

Dollar Street Informed Consent

Imagine the world as a street where everyone lives. Your house number is your income. The poorest to the left and the richest to the right. Everyone else lives in between. We collect photos and videos from households worldwide to show how people live on different income levels all over the world. This material is used in the website www.dollarstreet.org.

We would like to add photos, videos and sounds of your household at the Dollar Street as well. We will also ask you questions about your household, family members and your income. This should take up to one day. This information will be shared on www.dollarstreet.org. Your home address and GPS will not be shared publicly. Your e-mail address, telephone number or other means of contacting you will also not be shared publicly.

The material posted on www.dollarstreet.org is available to the public under the Creative Commons CC BY 4.0 License. This license says that anyone can share (copy and redistribute in any medium or format) and adapt (remix, transform, and build upon) it, even commercially, as long as they give credit to www.gapminder.org. This means that other people might share your photos on social media, news articles, newspapers, magazines, documentaries, educational material, or any other means they wish.

If you don't want to participate, you can stop the interview and the collection of photos or videos at any time. You can also see all personal data we have about you, ask us to rectify any information, ask us to delete your personal data and remove your home from www.dollarstreet.org after it has been put online. To do any of those, please write to info@gapminder.org or call Fernanda Drumond at +46 76 171 2210.

By signing this Informed Consent, you agree in letting us collect this material from your household and use it at www.dollarstreet.org as specified above. If you want more information, contact Anna Rosling Rönnlund at Gapminder Foundation - anna@gapminder.org, +46 (0) 76 798 66 66. Do you have any questions? Can we begin now?
